Southern Pines

ARTIST INSPIRED HOME COLLECTION

My third collection by Klaussner Home Furnishings is inspired by my hometown of Southern Pines. This beautiful umber pine finish, with a rustic yet refined mid tone is a wonderful addition to my first two collections, Blue Ridge and Sea Breeze. Stop by the gallery to see some examples of my new home collection!

Celebrating 40 Years!

UNCG BFA - 1975

Milestones have a way of making us pause and reflect. Forty years since earning my BFA is most certainly a milestone. While I was an art student at UNCG one of my jobs was working the information desk in Elliott Hall. I would often draw and paint at the desk while I simply answered questions. Then one day, a Dean observed my progress and offered me the chance to have an art show in Elliott. The show was a sellout and I gained the confidence that my dream of painting full-time was possible. My career was born.

I've been afforded the privilege of earning my living as a professional artist since and have literally chased my dreams around the globe. But, I've never forgotten the boost that first show gave me.

A few years ago I began underwriting an Artistic Merit Award, granting a UNCG senior painting student a scholarship to help cover their art supplies and the cost of mounting a public exhibit of their work. And ultimately, I hope, helping launch another artist's career. To perpetuate this scholarship, an endowment has been established.

Utilizing my artwork to help fund the program seems to bring it full circle. On May 9th I will unveil an Original Art Show - Celebrating 40 Years as a Professional Artist. Proceeds from the Original Painting sales will help fund the endowment.
